GREETINGS!

SAS Savvy September Newsletter

Invited Trainer at Boston Area SAS User Group Meeting

My half day Proc SQL class at the Microsoft Nerd center in Boston was a big success with over 100 students! It was one of the user group's largest classes ever. Feedback from two analysts said the class was "extremely useful" and gave them "actionable information" that they could put to use "right away". They also said that it was one of the best classes they had taken recently.

My UCSD and SAS India CDISC classes continue to go well with web sessions and student engagements.

SAS Savvy congratulates Uzma Khan for passing the SAS Clinical Trials Programmer exam!! Content in SAS Savvy was helpful for him to prepare for the exam.

Help spread the word about SAS Savvy. Missed the recent SAS Savvy Open House? Watch the video recording now and see what's new.

To continue to navigate SAS Savvy, you can use the standard left side menu or the new Site Mind Map which should take you to each page.

SAS Savvy Updates

Below are updates made in September. Cannot wait till the end of the month for updates? You can subscribe to free daily updates.

1. On the Common FAQ page section for Proc SQL, I added this question - What is an effective method for adding a flag variable based on group descriptive stats?
2. On the SAS on PC page, I added several papers on DOS and batch files.
3. On the Technical Tips page, I added several good SAS papers on detection and management of duplicate records and robust programming for example.
4. On the SAS Technical Presentations page, I added a link for SAS paper and presentations guidelines and on the SAS ODS Statistical Graphs page, I added links to two papers using NOGTITLE.

SAS Savvy Training

SAS Savvy training covers new SAS topics and requests. Please see the video recording if you missed the live session. Below is the schedule for the next training sessions. As always, please e-mail me your favorite topic.
